"PALACE GUARD" REIGN TO END

WASHINGTON, April 13.—President Harry S. Truman, a fighting veteran of the First World War, assumed the fallen mantle of Franklin Delano Roosevelt today pledged to carry out his policies for war and peace.

The new president's first official utterance was a pledge to use "all his vigor" to "prosecute the war on both fronts, east and west, to a successful conclusion."

Conference Goes On
His second was a command to Secretary of State Stettinius to hold the United Nations conference on international organization at San Francisco, starting April 25, as planned by the late President Roosevelt.

Mr. Truman was sworn in at the White House at a solemn ceremony in the White House at 7:08 p. m. (EWT) last evening. Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone administered the oath before the cabinet, the Truman family and White House officials, a few hours after the nation learned that FDR had died in peaceful coma at Warm Springs, Ga., following a cerebral hemorrhage.

The new president joined a sorrowing capital in awaiting the arrival in Washington early tomorrow of the Roosevelt funeral train. There will be official though semi-private services in the east room of the White House tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be at the family burial ground in Hyde Park, N. Y., Sunday.

For Complete Victory
President Truman will follow in the footsteps of Roosevelt as commander-in-chief of the nation's fighting forces by giving his command.

New Advance By British On Italian Front

By MICHAEL CHINGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ROME, April 13.—British Eighth Army forces on the Adriatic sector of the Italian battle front advanced several miles today through the upper Santeramo river valley against crumbling resistance by German defense forces.

A communique from headquarters of the Eighth Army declared that the German positions gave way particularly in the area south of Lake Comacchio.

In the central battle sector the push by the Eighth Army was resisted desperately by the Germans who threw in Tiger tanks in an effort to stem the onslaught.

The Eighth Army steadily enlarged its bridgehead over the Santeramo river against the stubborn German resistance, there which at some points resulted in desperate heavy counter-attacks. All of the enemy counter-blows were beaten down.

Vast American Armies Surging Nearer Berlin

NEWS BLACKOUT CONCEALS FACTS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 13.—With vast American armies racing toward the German capital from points possibly only 40 miles away, Nazi broadcasts today for the first time admitted that Berlin is threatened by Allied advances.

"American pressure in the direction of Brandenburg province and the strategic target of Berlin has increased during the past 24 hours," the German transoceanic agency said in a special broadcast.

Secrecy Over Situation
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's complete security news blackout shrouded in secrecy the exact location of the three American armies plunging headlong for Berlin.

The DNB agency reported a new tank thrust on Berlin from the northwest. The Nazi outlet asserted American armored formations reached the bridge crossing the Elbe to Wittenberge, only to find the structure blown up.

Wittenberge itself is on the east side of the Elbe 68 miles from the outskirts of Berlin and 60 miles north of Magdeburg.

Unsubstantiated French newspaper reports said that Allied parachute troops had been dropped in the area of Brandenburg, 20 miles from Berlin, to support the armored spearheads of Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson's army.

Powerful Allied Thrust
The German DNB agency reported that a powerful Allied armored division was "trusting toward Gardelegen, 75 miles west of the Berlin suburb of Spandau, and toward Wittenberge, northeast of Gardelegen."

Armored forces of the Third Army rumbled into the historic German city of Jena, along the route to Dresden, an eventual link-up with Soviet forces separated from the line of the western Allies by a gap of about 100 miles.

First Army spearheads hammered east to within a score of miles of the famed city of Leipzig.

With the three powerful American armies surging toward Berlin, the German DNB agency reported today.

More Than 100 Reported Dead In Tornadoes

(BULLETIN)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 13.—(INS)—More than 100 persons were killed in a series of tornadoes which lashed the state of Oklahoma late yesterday, authorities estimated today.

The number of injured was in the hundreds and heavy property damage was done.

One report so far unconfirmed, was that 120 persons were killed in Antlers, Okla., a town of 3,000 in the southeastern part of the state.

A lower estimate was given by Paul Porter, Red Cross chairman in Antlers, who said he believed that 61 persons were dead in Antlers and that 57 bodies had been recovered at the time he made his estimate.

"At least 250 persons were injured in the disaster," he declared. "The figures may go higher than this later in the day."

The body of America's great wartime president, still in death, was placed aboard the presidential special train shortly before 10 o'clock CWT this morning at this little wayside Georgia station.

A few moments later the sad journey back to the White House for funeral services, and on to the Roosevelt ancestral home overlooking the Hudson river at Hyde Park, N. Y., had begun.

THE LITTLE WHITE
HOUSE, Warm Springs, Ga.,
April 13.—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the nation's leader through twelve of its most crucial years of peace and war, lay through the night in the simple dignity of death in the little white cottage atop Pine Mountain that he liked to call his "second home."

Today, the body of the great Democratic leader begins the final journey back to the White House and then to his boyhood home in the valley of the Hudson highlands of New York.

The chief executive will be buried Sunday morning in the garden of his Hyde Park home at a spot where he may forever look down the broad, misty blue stretches of the river he loved.

Bids Husband Goodbye
Alone, by the president's side in the simple bedroom of his cottage here Mrs. Roosevelt bade her husband goodbye early this morning.

She went quietly to the room where he lay peacefully as though asleep after her arrival by special plane from Washington following news of his sudden death Thursday afternoon.

She spent many minutes in the quiet dimly lit room.

Members of the White House staff said she was bearing up under the grief heroically.

Dies At 3:35 Central War Time
Death came to the chief executive gamely fighting against illness for 15 months at 3:35 p. m. central war time yesterday afternoon.

He was stricken at his desk, still striving for his great goal—to banish the threat of war and warfare from the world for generations to come.

He died peacefully lapsing swiftly into unconsciousness after being stricken shortly after 1:15 p. m. as he sat in a big leather easy chair before a collapsible bridge table he used as a desk in his study.

He was sitting for a new portrait by a Russian artist, W. Robbins of New York City as he worked into his lunch hour over White House papers.

These latest announced sinkings brings to 124 the number of enemy combatant ships sent to the bottom by submarine action.

The underwater craft were also credited with two destroyer transports, one large and one medium tanker, one naval auxiliary, and six medium and two small cargo vessels, for a total of 974 non-combat vessels sunk since the beginning of the war.

Pall Of Deep Sorrow Over Washington

Tragic Death Of President
Roosevelt Brings Grief
In All Circles

By EARLE MARCKRES
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 13.—The death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, thirty-first president of the United States, cast a pall of deep sorrow today over Washington.

From Capitol Hill to Embassy Row, scores of congressmen, diplomats, labor leaders, politicians and "common men" paid their respects to the departed chief executive, who died on the threshold of the greatest Allied military victories in Europe and the Pacific.

Congressmen—mindful of Mr. Roosevelt's vigorous championship of a world peace organization—forgot political partisanship to voice their grief over the President's death on the eve of the United Nations security conference in San Francisco, on April 25.

Foreign diplomats—frequent visitors at the White House—remembered President Roosevelt as the "world citizen" who had projected the United States into world affairs on an unprecedented scale at Casablanca, Cairo, Teheran, Quebec and Yalta.

Many Condolences
Among messages of condolence pouring into the White House were those from Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin, with whom Mr. Roosevelt had helped shape world affairs at these meetings. Churchill said Mr. Roosevelt's death was the "loss of the British nation and of the cause of freedom in every land" and to himself personally a "dear and cherished friendship which was forged in the fire of war."

But the workers-in-the-street in Washington, stunned by the news (Continued on Page Two)

Paper Collection Set For April 21

Meeting in the Castle Hotel Friday at noon the Paper Salvage monthly collection of paper on Saturday April 21st. The usual technique will be followed and the usual necessity for volunteers, both men and trucks is present. Dates for the May and June paper drives were also set for the May drive to be on May 19 and the June drive on June 23. Both days are Saturdays.

In the past three months the total tonnage of the paper collection in New Castle and the adjoining townships has increased. They indicate that the paper is here if the people will get it out onto the curbs.

The need for paper is increasingly vital. The shipments of war material overseas are mounting in number and weight and the need for paper containers grows apace. The supply of pulp for paper is not increasing, due to war time paper shortages and the only salvation for the paper situation is in the waste paper.

Start today, lay your paper away. Saturday April 21st is the day it will be collected and shipped to a paper processing company. As usual the Boy Scouts will ride the trucks and collect the paper from the curbs. Newspapers, magazines, cardboard boxes and books should be bundled into bundles not more than 15 pounds each and tied securely.

Emergency Surgical Dressing Quota Set

Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter Called On For 102,000 Dressings During Next 30 Days

An emergency quota of 102,000 surgical dressings to be completed during the next 30 days has been asked from Lawrence County chapter of the Red Cross. Mrs. Norman A. Martin, surgical dressing chairman, announced today.

This means that the Red Cross rooms at the Scottish Rite Cathedral will be reopened and dressings will start work on this call for dressings on Tuesday, April 17, Mrs. Martin said.

"We are hoping for an enthusiastic response from our volunteer workers to enable us to turn out these dressings. For, in order to meet this emergency quota, we will have to make dressings at the rate of nearly 7,000 each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday during the next 30 days," the chairman explained.

Classes will be held morning, afternoon, and evening on each of those three days and also on Friday morning.

NEW PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN ASSUMES DUTIES

plete support to the army and navy in an early victory over Germany and an eventual crushing of Japan. He also proposes to follow Roosevelt's lead in creating a great world organization to insure peace for future generations throughout the world.

Mr. Truman may well take a greater interest than Roosevelt in the day to day conduct of the war. Roosevelt served as an assistant secretary of the navy in the First World War and his first love was the navy. Mr. Truman served as a captain in the field artillery, Company B in the 129th overseas and he saw men die in battle. His first love will be the Doughboys who fight and die.

The new president's first statement had a martial but solemn note. In it, he said:

"The world may be sure that we will prosecute the war on both fronts, east and west, with all the vigor we possess to a successful conclusion."

To Bring Changes

"In that faith and with that spirit of courage we must carry on."

The elevation of Mr. Truman to the Presidency after 83 days as Vice President, 10 years in the Senate and an earlier minor career in Missouri politics, will bring two radical changes to the Washington government in the domestic field. These two major changes will be:

1. A new era of friendliest relations between the White House and Congress.
2. The immediate passing of the so-called "palace guard" from positions of power and influence in administration affairs.

President Truman had tried to inaugurate an era of friendly relations between the late Mr. Roosevelt and Congress in his role as Vice President. There is no question whatever but that he will turn to congressional leaders—as well as business leaders of the nation—for advice and information in the handling of domestic affairs.

One major result of this new White House attitude toward Congress will be that the new President will establish his own policies for reconstruction of the nation's industries following the formal surrender of Germany. The reconversion policies which some high army officers and some ardent New Dealers drafted for the Roosevelt administration will be discarded.

"Palace Guard" To Go

Friends of the new President also assert that Truman will discard the advice of the "starry-eyed, do-gooders" who thronged about the "palace guard," which was headed by Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, Presidential Assistant Harry L. Hopkins and Judge Samuel J. Rosenman. The Frankfurter-Hopkins-Rosenman influence—they say—is now dead.

President Truman officially announced that he will retain the Roosevelt cabinet. His intimates say that this only means the new President will get his feet firmly set in the White House before making changes, but that changes are inevitable.

There will be no radical departure from known Roosevelt policies on the surface. Mr. Truman is just not that kind of a politician. He was a strong believer in Mr. Roosevelt, and his ardent admirer. He will make no move which the public can regard as an open reflection on the memory of his dead chief. That is why Wallace can stay in the cabinet. He will not reopen the Wallace-Jesse Jones feud.

Democracy Functions

Truman, though, approaches the reconversion task with good cheer. He declared only last Saturday that there may be a manpower shortage in the postwar era. He discounted fears that returning veterans will out wartime workers from their jobs by asserting he believed there would be enough jobs for all.

Thus, democracy functions. A greatly beloved President, known throughout the world, died—a little-known man ascended to the Presidency, in the midst of global warfare and on the eve of the world's greatest conference for future peace.

Thus, a former county judge, who failed in a small-time business, took over the greatest business job in all the world—the Presidency of the United States.

SUICIDAL ATTACKS BY JAP AIRMEN COSTLY TO ENEMY

in the Ryukyus. Nimitz said that the Japs' suicide attacks on the U. S. fleet resulted in sinking of one destroyer and damages to several other surface units.

Many Shot Down

Some 361 other Japanese aircraft were shot down last Friday in the Ryukyus area when the enemy air force attempted to pave the way for an imperial fleet task force moving southward toward embattled Okinawa. At that time, the 45,000-ton prize battleship Yamato, together with two Nip cruisers and three destroyers were sunk by carrier planes.

Only minor changes in the lines of the U. S. tenth army on Okinawa were announced in the official bulletin, which told of continuing stiff resistance being presented by the doughboys driving for the port of Naha and the Machinato-Yonabaru airstrips in the southern part of the island. "Sporadic" opposition was encountered by the marines in the north.

The Japs launched several vain counter-attacks and engaged the Yanks in the Pacific war's heaviest artillery duel north of Naha. While the sixth marine division moved forward on Motobu peninsula, on the western coast of the island, elements of the first marine division continued "mopping-up" enemy positions on Ishikawa isthmus. Here, the leathernecks were slowed by rugged terrain and "extremely poor roads."

U. S. FORCES IN PACIFIC SCORE NEW ADVANCES

its 13th day, four army and two marine divisions battered stubbornly resisting Jap defenders on both the north and south Okinawa fronts.

In the Philippines the northern arm of a closing pincer was forced by a 30-mile spurt from Antimanan to Calauag, at the northern entrance to the Promontories. Gen. Douglas MacArthur revealed that units of his famed American division of the U. S. Eighth Army went ashore under cover of naval and air bombardment at Tasbilaran on the southwestern tip of Bohol Island.

Substantial gains were scored on nearby Cebu, while Mindanao again was pounded from the air.

that their four-time elected president was dead, recalled vividly the terse summary of his hard-fought legislative program: "One-third ill, ill-housed and ill-clothed."

As news of the President's death spread throughout Washington late yesterday, thousands of these plain citizens swarmed to 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, milled about the guarded gates and paused to peer in hushed silence through the iron picket fence at the stately solemn executive mansion.

Filled With Remorse

In the White House, where the Roosevelt cabinet foregathered to witness Harry S. Truman's oath-taking as president ranking members were filled with remorse.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said: "It is a tragedy he did not live to see the unconditional surrender of Germany and Japan."

At the Bethesda Naval hospital, former Secretary of State Cordell Hull stressed the magnitude of the Roosevelt's loss to the U. S. and the world.

"Mankind will be vastly poorer because of his passing," said Hull. "Mr. Roosevelt's congressional contact—men—Senate Majority Leader Barkley, Speaker Rayburn, and House Majority Leader McCormack—were grief-stricken over his passing."

Tragedy To Nation

The death of President Roosevelt, said Barkley, is the greatest tragedy that has ever happened to this nation.

Speaking for labor, CIO President Philip Murray appealed to the nation to see that the President's sacrifice shall not be in vain.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the President's opponent in the bitter 1944 presidential campaign, said his sympathy along with that of Mrs. Dewey, he declared in his telegram to Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Please accept our deepest sympathy in your great loss which will be shared by every American and mourned by all of the freedom-loving people of the entire world."

at Eibersbrunn, slashing the Vienna-Brunn railway and highway.

Third Ukrainian army troops occupied Gussing, less than 20 miles north of the Italian border, and took more than 40 other towns.

The complete liberation of Vienna was expected to come at any time as Soviet spearheads stabbed deep beyond the city. Some Russian units were at St. Pölten 35 miles west of the capital and only 125 miles northeast of Hitler's reported last stand at the mountain hideout of Berchtesgaden.

Antlers has been damaged or destroyed and this includes the residential as well as the business sections.

The tornadoes, which ripped into various sections of the state, skipping others, included Oklahoma City, Muskogee and probably a score of smaller communities.

A 13-year-old eastern Oklahoma boy who was seriously injured, said he was carried some distance by the terrific gale and that all his clothes were torn off including his shoes but excepting his underwear.

Antlers and Muskogee, the worst stricken of Oklahoma communities when the tornadoes hit the state late yesterday, sent emergency calls for help to neighboring cities.

Churchill Sends His Condolences

Prime Minister Of Great Britain Says "I Have Lost Dear And Cherished Friend"

LONDON, April 14—(INS)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill in a message of condolence to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today said that he had "lost a dear and cherished friendship" in the death of the President.

Churchill said Mr. Roosevelt's death was a loss to the British nation and the cause of freedom in every land.

"As for myself," he said, "I have lost a dear and cherished friendship which was forged in the fire of war. I trust you may find consolation in the glory of his name and the magnitude of his work."

BRITAIN GOES INTO MOURNING FOR PRESIDENT

eral, the London Evening Standard said that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden himself may fly to attend.

The Dean of Westminster, Abbey offered to hold a special memorial service for the American president. The service likely would be held Saturday to coincide with the funeral in Washington.

Virtually the entire diplomatic corps in London personally went to the United States embassy before noon today to express their condolences.

Debate Get-Together Need

Diplomatic circles promptly began debating the necessity of a get-together meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin. Some quarters felt however that a meeting might be difficult to arrange in view of the suddenness with which Truman was called upon to assume office and in view of domestic questions in the United States.

In moving the adjournment of the House of Commons until next Tuesday, when leaders of all parties will pay tribute to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill said with emotion:

"It is not fitting that we should continue our work this day but that we immediately adjourn as a token of respect to the memory of this great departed statesman."

He said that President Roosevelt's efforts in the cause of freedom and on behalf of the weak and the poor had won him immortal renown.

All cabinet members present in the house with Churchill wore black ties.

The British press was stirred by Roosevelt's passing and all prominent newspapers paid him editorial tribute.

"He will be remembered with Lincoln as a leader who set and kept his country on the path of true greatness," said the Daily Telegraph.

"Bitterly, ironically," said the Daily Mail, "the author of American victory lies dead. But his work is done."

How Sad News Reached World

WASHINGTON, April 13—(INS)—Here is how the big news of President Roosevelt's death was announced to the world:

Stephen Early, former press relations secretary to the late President, had the White House telephone operator connect the three major news services for an announcement to them simultaneously.

After ascertaining that the press associations were all on the line, Early announced that the President was dead. International News Service flashed the momentous news to the world at 5:47 p. m. EWT.

Yanks Sweep Ahead On Luzon

Thirty Mile Gain Is Reported By Troops Of Gen. MacArthur

By JOHN CASHMAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, April 13. — American mechanized troops, in a 30-mile sweep along the Lopez gulf coast of southern Luzon, were credited today with trapping Japanese forces in the Borden and Borden peninsulas while other Yanks developed their successful new invasion of Bohol Island.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the swift advance of 14th Corps troops which drove from Atimonan to Calauas, which lies at the juncture of the two peninsulas. He declared that the Yanks thus snapped shut "the trap on enemy forces left in the peninsulas."

Invasion of Bohol, last of the Visayan Islands to be liberated, was staged by elements of the famed Americal Division of the Eighth Army under cover of naval and air support.

Other U. S. forces in the Visayan group were clearing the hills to the northeast of Cebu, making substantial gains against moderate resistance. Reduction of fixed enemy defenses in the upper Marikina river area of central Luzon continued, while several Japanese counterattacks were repulsed near Highway Five in the Balete Pass-Villa Verde area.

First Trailer At Camp Occupied

Entire Trailer Camp To Be Ready By Sunday, April 15, It Is Announced

First to occupy a trailer in the Castle Hills Trailer project on Jackson Avenue are Mr. and Mrs. George Burns and six months old daughter, Reno Nevada. The Burns family have arrived in New Castle and have taken up residence. Mr. Burns is employed in a local industry.

By April 15 the entire camp will be ready for occupancy according to William H. E. Clark who has charge of the camp. Mrs. Helen Replogle, management aide is now taking applications for trailer occupancy and a number of requests are on hand.

Considerable grading has been done in the camp, a black top street has been laid between the two blocks of trailers and sidewalks are being put down. The recreation building is up and will be painted and decorated and a playground for the children of the camp is being prepared.

The trailer camp is for workers in essential war work. Among this group are employees of the United Engineering and Foundry Company, Aluminum Company of America, Standard Steel Spring Company, Pennsylvania Engineering Works, and others. It is not for persons engaged in what might be termed non-essential industries, nor is it for migrant farm workers.

Applications for residence in the trailer camp may be made to Mrs. Helen Replogle, giving the necessary information.

Axis Propaganda Attempt Expected

May Seek To Capitalize On Sudden Death Of President Roosevelt

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13. — (INS) — German and Jap propagandists today are expected to try to capitalize on the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt to encourage their troops to increased resistance but military experts are convinced that no change in military planning will result from this first casualty among the "Big Three" leaders.

However, it is believed possible that, momentarily, German resistance within the narrowing Reich borders might be stiffened. This could postpone by no more than hours, or at most days—the time of V-E day.

Actually the plans for the present campaigns against both Germany and Japan were laid long ago. This was necessarily the fact because of the vast amounts of unusual equipment which had to be supplied in advance of such semi-amphibious operations as the Rhine crossing.

Mr. Roosevelt, along with British Prime Minister Churchill and Soviet Premier Stalin devoted themselves primarily with master strategic planning and left details of military operations in the hands of the military.

Strong Attack By Japanese Is Broken Up

By JULIAN HARTT
 (U.S. Staff Correspondent)
 WITH THE 24TH ARMY CORPS, OKINAWA, April 13.—Yanks on the right flank of the American lines on southern Okinawa today broke up the strongest counter-attack yet launched on the island, leaving Japs strewn all over the bloody Kakazu ridge sector.

The number of enemy dead could not be immediately tallied, but it was believed that more than a company of Japs made the attack following heavy mortar barrages.

Many of the Japs who were not killed by the Yanks ble themselves up with grenades.

The enemy also attempted to scale the sea wall in the same area and infiltrate but were unsuccessful, although many snipers harassed the Americans.

Earlier a Jap heavy gun in the Naha area shelled the Kadena airstrip—from which Marine fighters are operating—in apparent co-ordination with the Nips' all-out air attack yesterday.

The shelling was ineffective and the Jap gun was finally silenced by American fire and only a few Jap planes ever penetrated the area.

President Truman To Attend Funeral At Hyde Park, N.Y.

Mrs. Roosevelt Requests No Flowers Be Sent To White House Or Hyde Park

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS.)—The White House announced today that President Harry S. Truman will accompany the body of the late President Roosevelt from Washington to Hyde Park where burial will take place.

The announcement was made by White House Secretary Jonathan Daniels.

Mr. Truman, Daniels said, recognized that on the trip it would be impossible to maintain the secrecy which normally guards the movements of the chief executive in wartime.

Daniels said that he did not know whether Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret would accompany the president on Mr. Roosevelt's funeral train.

Daniels reiterated Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's request that no flowers be sent either to the White House or to the late president's estate at Hyde Park where he will be interred Sunday.

Daniels also stated that Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt will attend the funeral but that he doubted whether Col. James Roosevelt, brother of the president's son, would be able to arrive in time to be present at the interment of his father.

Daniels emphasized that Mr. Roosevelt's body will not lie in state for public view either in Washington or in Hyde Park.

Mayor Issues Proclamation On V-E Day Program

Believing that V-E day may arrive at any time now, Mayor John F. Haven today issued a proclamation in which he asked citizens to observe it in a manner worthy of the respect of the members of the armed forces. He also requested that all churches be kept open for prayer.

The full text of the proclamation follows:

I, John F. Haven, mayor of the city of New Castle, Pennsylvania, do hereby appeal to the citizens of our city to observe V-E day when that time arrives in a manner worthy of the respect of the members of the armed forces.

We must keep in mind the sacrifices that have been made, that are still being made, and that will be made by our brave boys and girls in Europe and the South Pacific.

They did not fight on foreign battlefields for things they did not believe in. They fought for freedom, for peace, for a better world.

We should express our appreciation to them by observing V-E day in a spirit of thanksgiving and sincere appreciation.

As mayor of the city I request that all drinking establishments and clubs close when the V-E news is authentic. If the report arrives during the day I shall expect them to close from that time on until midnight, if it comes near the midnight hour.

U. S. SUB SCAMP REPORTED LOST

Navy Also Discloses Loss Of Large Support Landing Craft In Philippine Area

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—The navy has announced that the submarine Scamp is overdue from patrol and presumed lost with all hands aboard.

At the same time the navy disclosed the loss of a large support landing craft, LST-49, as the result of enemy action in the Philippine area.

The Scamp, a modern, 1,500-ton sub, carried a normal complement of about 65 officers and men and was the 42nd submarine lost from all causes since the beginning of the war.

Her skipper was Comd. John C. Hollingsworth of Dawson, Ga., and Groton, Conn., who is listed as missing. A graduate of the Naval Academy, Hollingsworth entered the submarine service in 1936.

The landing craft support which carried a crew of about 45 officers and men, was commanded by Lt. Harold W. Smith of Decatur, Ala., reported to have survived the sinking of his vessel.

Sinking of the support craft brought the number of American warships lost to a total of 284.

S-Sgt. Tony Rozzi Killed In Action

Local Paratrooper Who Has Had Long Experience In Battle Killed In Germany

Mr. and Mrs. James Rozzi of 217 Friendship street have received the sad message from the war department that their son, S-Sgt. Tony R. Rozzi, aged 22 years, was killed in action in Germany March 9 while serving with the paratroopers.

Sgt. Rozzi had been in service since August 1942 and went overseas about a year ago. He landed in Normandy with the first paratroop units, which saw gallant action on D-Day and had made a number of jumps since then.

He has two brothers in service, S-1c Patsy Rozzi with the Seabees in the Pacific area and S-2c Peter Rozzi, who has had several thrilling exploits in the Pacific area, having been badly burned when his ship was hit by a Jap shell and three days after getting back to duty, was on a destroyer which was sunk during a hurricane in the Pacific area, being one of the few members of the crew who were picked up and rescued.

His father is a veteran of World War 1 and a member of Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion. He is also survived by two brothers and a sister at home, James, Jr., John and Theresa.

It is really a matter of opinion as to who is the greatest football player of all times. One vote taken by a board of some of the most competent football coaches in the country, gave Jim Thorpe of Carlisle, first place, with Ernie Nevers of Stanford and Red Grange of Illinois tied for second.

(BULLETIN)

ALBANY, N. Y., April 13.—(INS)—Shocked by news of the death of President Roosevelt, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey sent a telegram of condolence to the president's widow late today.

Attaches to the gubernatorial mansion said the 1944 GOP presidential nominee would have a formal statement in about an hour.

Deepest Sympathy
The governor and his wife, in their telegram, said:

"Please accept our deepest sympathy in your great loss which will be shared by every American and mourned by all the freedom-loving people of the entire world."

Gov. Dewey's secretary, James Haggerty, said the New York state chief executive was busy at work in his office when the radio announced President Roosevelt's death.

He was informed immediately, and was greatly shocked, Haggerty said.

"Loss At This Tragic Hour Is Most Regrettable", Says Governor

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin today said the death of President Roosevelt was most regrettable "at this tragic hour."

The governor issued a formal statement shortly after the nation's chief executive died at Warm Springs.

"I was shocked to hear of the president's death," Governor Martin said. "His loss at this tragic hour is most regrettable."

"All of us must give to Vice President Truman every ounce of energy we possess to assist him in carrying on the great task which is yet unfinished."

Traffic Death List Is Low In February

Fewer Deaths In February Than In Any Month Since 1928, Report Points Out

HARRISBURG, April 13.—Keeping up the year's low fatality record, February statistics show only 68 traffic accident deaths—a figure which is now only lower than the number recorded for February of any previous year, but is also lower than any month of any year since 1928, reports the Bureau of Highway Safety.

Eighty-two persons were killed in January, making total of 150 for the first two months of the year. Of the 150, the largest age group is the 5-to-14 group, increased because of the 19 sled-riders of this age who were killed.

The next largest age group is the 65-year-and-over group, while the 31-54 group comes third. Lawrence county shows a decline of 3 during the month of February, 1944, over the month of February, 1943, with an increase of one in the urban areas being overbalanced by a decrease of four in the rural areas. Altogether, only two persons were killed in the county during the month.

Both of the fatalities were pedestrians struck by autos, and since two pedestrians were killed during the same month last year, the statistics for pedestrian accidents remain the same. Last year, however, one of the pedestrian accidents was in the rural areas, whereas this year they were both in the urban sections.

Causes for accidents including on icy pavements, colliding with trains, intoxication, attempting left turns in front of car coming in opposite direction, falling off truck while standing on tall gate, ice on windshield, falling asleep at wheel, striking hole in beam in the road, and being forced off highway by car coming in opposite direction.

Causes for pedestrian fatalities included: walking in the street crossing against traffic signals, crossing from behind a parked car, crossing from behind a snow bank, intoxication, poor brakes on vehicle, and children running into the street.

SHOULD MANAGEMENT BE UNIONIZED?

A Statement by General Motors

THE POSITION OF FOREMEN IN GENERAL MOTORS

In General Motors, foremen are the MANAGERS of their departments. They participate in establishing management policies in both production and personnel matters. They have full authority to approve or disapprove the hiring, to supervise the work, and to make work assignments of the employees under their supervision. They initiate wage increases, transfers and promotions. They are directly responsible for the efficiency and safety of their group. They have full authority when necessary to take immediate, appropriate disciplinary action for violation of shop rules, and other improper conduct of their employees. They are the first point of management contact and make the first management decision on all matters relating to the employees under their direction.

THE National Labor Relations Board has ordered a bargaining election among the foremen and other supervisory groups of a Detroit automobile company.

This company is not a part of General Motors, but we are concerned with the principles involved.

This confusing action by the Board means that it is sanctioning and promoting the unionization of management personnel, in spite of the fact that the National Labor Relations Act includes as an employer "any person acting in the interests of an employer directly or indirectly."

We are sure that Congress did not intend to approve unionization of management when it passed the Act.

The results if applied throughout industry would be bad for the management groups involved, bad for industry, bad for labor, bad for America.

Bad for Foremen

We think it would be bad for foremen if American industry should be compelled to make a change in its proven type of organization, which would unavoidably reduce the foreman's status, diminish his responsibility, authority and influence, decrease his opportunities for personal advancement.

In General Motors, foremen have always had important responsibilities and authority.

We have always guarded the status of our foremen, and have provided special training to improve their abilities, increase their efficiency and enhance their opportunities for promotion to even more important management positions. The great majority of General Motors' principal executives at one time were foremen.

We are convinced that it would be impossible for a foreman to follow both management and union leaderships at the same time, and under those conditions to carry on all his duties as they now exist. All elements of management must have a common objective.

It would obviously be impossible, for instance, for him as a fellow unionist with those under him, to perform his functions which relate to their working conditions, wages, promotions and assignments on the unbiased basis which is essential to good management.

Bad for Industry

From our experience both before and during the war, we are certain that the accepted American method of spreading managerial authority and responsibility among foremen—so that management is in close, direct contact with comparatively small groups of workmen—is the best and only sound method of handling day-to-day relations with the thousands of employees engaged in modern mass production.

Anything which would require a change in this set-up would interfere with employer-employee relations and with production.

For example, there have been many strikes in war production plants, particularly in Michigan. Charges have been made that workmen have been loafing in plants engaged in war production and that they are being paid high wages for not working. We are conscious that the public feels that there must be something wrong. The attempt to tear down the position and authority of foremen and to unionize members of management is importantly contributing to this condition.

Bad for Labor

As a matter of fact, the close-contact method is about the only way that management and labor can work harmoniously together in large organizations.

Much is said these days about cooperation. It would be a serious handicap to any hopes for teamwork and the pursuit of common interests, if anything were done to remove this facility for knowing and understanding each other.

It is our firm, sincere belief that loss of this close contact would make harmonious relations between management and labor almost impossible and would interfere with practical collective bargaining.

Bad for America

The removal of foremen from their present position as a vital, integral part of management would require reorganization of factory management on a basis far more complicated and decidedly less effective. Necessary factory discipline would suffer, worker efficiency would be impaired.

We believe the effect on you—on the public as a whole—would be very real.

It would interfere with the war effort.

It would make war materials cost more.

It would slow up postwar reconversion to civilian production.

It would delay adequate postwar output of cars, refrigerators, ranges, furniture—all the things people need so much and have waited for so long.

Finally—and, in the long run, perhaps most important of all—it would so increase production costs as to boost prices and the cost of living, and make the problem of reasonably full employment much more difficult.

Action Called For

When people have as deep a conviction about anything as we have about unionizing management, they ought to do something about it.

If the meaning of the National Labor Relations Act can be so confused as to promote unionization of management—and thus impair the effectiveness of the American production system of which we are all so proud—then the meaning ought to be cleared up.

General Motors believes—and hopes others will feel the same—that it is a patriotic duty, a duty to the foremen, to industry, to labor, and to the public as a whole—to oppose the unionization of management by every proper and lawful means.

That is our intention.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

We are supplied with the means to buy other products and keep other people producing. It is a circle which begins and ends with the individual.

All these statements, of course, are elementary. Enlightened business and industry have recognized them and operated in accordance with them for some time past. It is because they understand these things that intelligent and far-sighted men in business and industry want to see general employment at good wages; they want workers to have the means necessary to continue as employers by purchasing more and better products all the time.

There isn't any trick of legislation or any juggling of taxpayers' money that can make you a good customer or a good employer. It is a matter of aggressive, courageous, enlightened management; honest, efficient output by labor, to bring about better products for less money. Management and labor together, with the powerful aids of advertising, distribution and salesmanship, can do more to keep production going on mutually profitable terms than all the lawmakers, public administrators and a starry-eyed theorists put together. The big job is to keep you functioning as a customer. So long as you are a buyer you are an employer.

'Diogenes' Visits Oregon Legislature

SALEM, Ore., (INS)—Oregon legislators were halted in their law-making by a youth dressed in long, flowing robes and carrying a lighted lantern.

"I am Diogenes," he informed them. Then he calmly inspected the House and continued, "I'm looking for an honest man, but I have yet to find one."

Diogenes turned out to be a loser in the annual Freshman glee at Willamette university. The prank was his penalty.

Bomb Damage Done In Germany Is Stupendous

Great Portion Of Cities Reported
As Destroyed By Bomb
Raids Of War

By JOSEPH WILLIAMS, JR.
U. S. Staff Correspondent

PARIS—You will be utterly astounded at the extent of the damage today in the German cities. These words were uttered as a "promise" by a senior Royal Air Force officer to a group of correspondents in Paris.

The officer, a photo interpreter, was speaking of the Royal Air Force program which in the past 170 days has included one hundred full scale attacks against Germany, each of which cascaded onto the Reich an average bomb load of nineteen hundred tons. One third of this was made up of incendiary bombs.

Each of the raids has been a direct answer to the Germans for the crimes of Coventry, Plymouth, London and others. One answer in particular—notably the 3,200-ton RAF raid on Dresden was so heavy that the Germans coined the word "Dresdenizing" to describe the type raid the British are now carrying out.

Destroyed In 20 Minutes
Another pointer to the weight of the penalty the British are exacting is this remark of the photo officer: "It took the Germans three to four hundred years to build Darmstadt. It was destroyed in twenty minutes."

Still another is the report that 19,000 people were drowned in an Elbe river tunnel which was hit by a block buster in one of the RAF raids on Hamburg. And, incidentally, one unconfirmed report stated that there were forty thousand casualties in Dresden as a result of the stupendous raid. However, it was pointed out that the city was overcrowded with refugees at the time.

To support his prophecy on the damage in Germany today the photo officer revealed that of 61 cities, forty six of which had populations of more than 100,000 thirty per cent of the total built up area in each was completely destroyed. Twenty four of these with populations of more than 200,000 also suffered 30 per cent destruction. He added that twenty one suffered over fifty per cent destruction of their built up areas and another twenty one cities more than thirty per cent.

Bomb Breakdown
This included, he said, four hundred and ninety tons dropped on Koenigsberg, which destroyed 435 acres of its built up area, or 51 per cent of its total; 370 tons on Darmstadt, which wiped out 315 acres of buildings, or 69 per cent of the total; 870 tons on Bremerhaven.

which kayoed 297 acres, or 66 per cent of the total; 860 tons on Brunswick, destroying 655 acres or 47 per cent of the total; 1,090 tons on Heilbronn which destroyed 381 acres or 68 per cent; 1,060 tons dropped on Magdaburg, destroying 785 acres or 45 per cent; 510 tons on Coblenz, 269 acres destroyed, or 32 per cent.

In all of the German raids on Great Britain during the blitz days the damage was less than that done to Hamburg which was 6,200 acres destroyed or 74 per cent of the built-up area wiped out.

One hundred acres and one hundred and five acres, respectively and exclusive of V-weapons damage were devastated in Coventry and London.

POLICE PENSION CONTROL BILL IN COMMITTEE

HARRISBURG, April 13—(INS)—Disposition of a bill which would limit the control of third class city councils over police pension funds was left to a senate-house conference committee today.

The original measure granted "responsible citizens," as well as city officials and the council, jurisdiction over the fund. As amended by the senate, the fund would be controlled at all times by the council but could be "entrusted" to city officials or citizens.

Before the war, the city of Paris, France, published more daily newspapers than any other city in the world. It has been estimated that Paris had as many daily newspapers as the cities of New York, London, and Berlin combined.

LASTING INJURY

BOULDER, Colo. — (INS) — Germany's policy of underfeeding conquered peoples will have harmful effects long after the peace treaty is signed, in the opinion of Dr. William S. Bernard, associate professor of sociology at the University of Colorado. "Even after World War I before malnutrition was resorted to as a means of weakening a rival the first generation of men in France after the armistice were shorter in stature than their fathers because people were poorly fed during that war," Dr. Bernard said. The same condition existed in Germany after the first world war, Dr. Bernard added.

JOHNSTOWN—Despite gasoline rationing, parking meter receipts in March when $3,835.11 was collected.

Councilman S. Clyde Snook said this was the largest amount gathered in any month since the meters were installed in August, 1942.

ARMAGH—It might have been ghosts, but cemetery officials attributed the damage to vandals.
Approximately 100 headstones in a cemetery including one 103 years old were toppled over recently.

WATERFORD — Three-year-old
Gerald Moore was lost in the woods

ard Frederick Wood, son of British Ambassador Lord Halifax, after visiting wounded Yanks. Wood lost both legs in the African campaign.

PITTSBURGH—The coroner reported death was due to a heart attack but it possibly might have been the shock of finding a house. The man died a few minutes after signing a lease for a new dwelling.

HARRISBURG—A bill permitting use of low-powered motorboats on Pymatuning Lake in western Pennskyways and showered the city with leaflets calling for volunteers.

ERIE — The first iron ship in the U. S. Navy, the U. S. S. Michi-

Salvation Army Sets Up Program Of Veteran's Aid

Supplementing and cooperating with the work of other agencies,
the Salvation Army has established a veterans' program which has been listed in the booklet on service to veterans, compiled by the National Social Work Council in New York.
Local Captain Thelma Dundon has announced.

The local program which Captain Dundon has developed, has grown out of actual service to, and work with, veterans.

Under "Readjustment," Captain Dundon includes sending men to the proper agencies for advice and vocational guidance, and providing clothing, meals and lodging to transient veterans. "Reconstruction" includes hospital visitation, help in finding relatives, and advice about where to go for loans. "Re-Socialization" means help in re-establishing a home and in securing furniture, provision of emergency food supplies, and camp and day-care benefits for children and wives.

The religious program provides a church home, religious education for the children, and pastoral ministry including burials or weddings.

Learn how science helps to make the face younger

The skin of your face and throat! Is it ageing, losing its beauty? If so, try scientific ENDOCREME. For most women, ENDOCREME . . . with its 7-year record of success . . . gets results hitherto thought impossible. For it improves the skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. Only ENDOCREME contains ACTIVOL.
This ACTIVOL is a scientific counterpart of a natural, skinvitalizing substance . . . a substance that diminishes with advancing age. When you apply ENDOCREME it is absorbed under the skin's surface to compensate for this loss, to firm tissues and rebuild cells. Thus the skin tends to become fresher, firmer, smoother, more youthfully beautiful again. Isn't this the best way you can invest your cosmetic dollars? Many report truly exceptional results

State Will Join Mourning Nation

Governor Martin Orders Flags At Half-Mast, State To Join Nation In Observance

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin rushed plans today for Pennsylvania to join a period of national mourning for President Roosevelt as tributes to the late chief executive piled up.

The governor was expected to issue a proclamation today calling for participation in memorial services and ordering the American flag on all state and public buildings lowered to half-staff.

Governor Martin was shaken by the news of Mr. Roosevelt's death which he termed "most regrettable."

Support New President

He called upon Americans to support President Truman in successful prosecution of the war and writing an enduring peace.

"I was shocked to learn of the president's death," he stated. "His loss at this tragic hour is most regrettable."

"All of us must give to President Truman every ounce of strength and energy we possess to assist him in carrying on the great task which is yet unfinished," the governor declared.

Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., said the nation had lost a great leader.

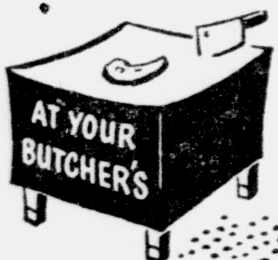

"President Roosevelt's death has saddened every patriotic American," he asserted. "He will be remembered for the great things he has done."

Speaker of the House Ira T. Fiss expressed the hope that the late president's accomplishments would encourage his successor.

"The country has suffered a very severe loss at a time when it can ill afford to lose a leader so great as President Roosevelt," Fiss added.

Go Ahead With World Security Conference Plan

Secretary Of State Stettinius Says "San Francisco Conference Will Open April 25"

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The death of President Roosevelt had the immediate effect today of placing new responsibilities on Secretary of State Stettinius for shaping and executing the foreign policy in the United States.

In diplomatic circles it was recalled that "the president always has been his own secretary of state." Charged by the constitution with direction of foreign affairs, President Roosevelt had gone further than most chief executives in giving personal direction to foreign policy.

Washington observers recalled that this was true when Cordell Hull was secretary of state, and had become still more true under Stettinius.

But the president's death, it was pointed out, brings into the White House a man who lays no claim to wide experience in international affairs. Harry Truman attests to his greater interest in local affairs. In his who's who biography, he singled out the fact that he "constructed $25,000,000 of highways and public buildings in Jackson County" (Mo.).

Make Own Decisions

The result will be that Stettinius, instead of "crossing the street" to get direction from the White House will be challenged to make decisions himself.

The first test will come at the San Francisco conference which, Stettinius already has announced, "will open on April 25 as planned."

It was Mr. Roosevelt's habit to take onto his own shoulders certain controversial questions requiring discussion with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

When the issue over recognition of De Gaulle reached a critical point last year, state department officials freely acknowledged the matter had passed out of their hands and had gone "across the street."

The same was true of the Polish question and of relations with the Vatican.

But the Big Three entente, which decided such questions at Tehran and Yalta, is now broken, and there was no one in Washington willing to predict that a comparable meeting would take place again.

Seven Presidents Die In Office

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—Franklin D. Roosevelt was the sixth president elected to office at 20 year intervals since 1849 to die before completing their terms.

Zachary Taylor, who was elected in 1848, was the sole exception. Other presidents were: William Henry Harrison, elected in 1840, died April 4, 1841; Abraham Lincoln, elected 1860, reelected 1864, assassinated April 15, 1865; James A. Garfield, elected 1880, died Sept. 19, 1881; William McKinley, elected 1896, reelected 1900, assassinated Sept. 14, 1901; Warren G. Harding, elected 1920, died Aug. 2, 1923; Franklin D. Roosevelt, elected 1932, reelected 1936, 1940, 1944, died April 12, 1945.

Editorials Praise Roosevelt's Work

(By International News Service)

President Roosevelt was eulogized in the nation's press today from coast to coast. Following are excerpts from editorials in leading newspapers.

New York Times: "Men will think of God on their knees a hundred years from now that Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House . . . in that dark hour when a powerful and ruthless barbarism threatened to overrun the Western World."

New York Tribune: "The staggering shock with which yesterday's news came to an entire nation—and to a world beyond the nation—is the best measure of the place which Franklin D. Roosevelt has made for himself in the history of the American people. There was no one of whatever party or persuasion, who did not feel in the first instant that a gallant figure had been snatched suddenly from our common life . . ."

Philadelphia Record: "Posterity will think of us as 'The Roosevelt generation' . . . he is gone and the only mitigation of the nation's sorrow is the realization that Providence gave him to America when America needed him most."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "President Roosevelt's splendid triumph over his grave disability, which would have caused a lesser man to give up in despair, will ever remain an inspiring object lesson to American youth . . . he gave his life for his country as truly as the soldier who is slain on the firing line. He died in the path of duty. He could have wished for no better epitaph."

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette: "It would be impossible to exaggerate the shock and dismay which the nation felt last evening when it learned of the sudden death of its wartime leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt. We have paid a heavy price for victory in this war and the name of the President belongs on the casualty lists with privates and generals and sailors and admirals who have given their lives for their country."

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph: "The greatest calamity to which any nation is subject, the loss by death of its leader upon whom the mantle of power has been bestowed and in whom the affections of its people repose, has befallen the American nation in the death of President Roosevelt . . . the delicate health and impaired physical condition of Mr. Roosevelt have long been well known to the American people, for their prayers attended him throughout the long years of his struggle in the shadow of death . . ."

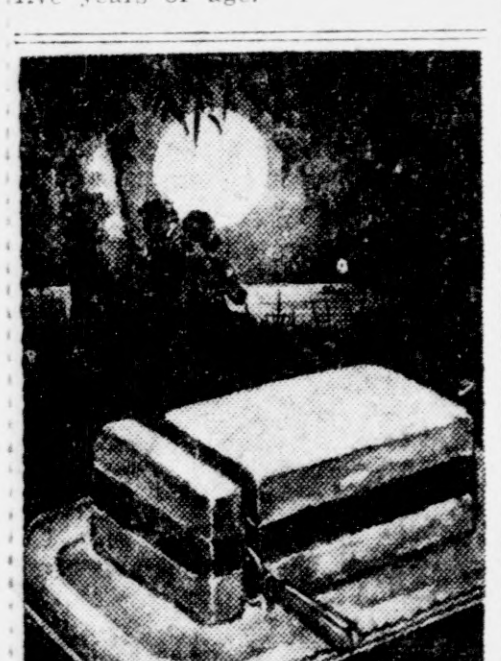

S-Sgt. Dubrock Is Given Silver Star

New Castle Soldier Cited For Gallant Action Under Fire Near Luxembourg Recently

Mrs. Bessie DuBrook, of 21 Kurtz street, has received the Silver Star and copy of the citation, awarded her son, S-Sgt. Frederick R. DuBrook, for gallantry in action in northern Luxembourg, on January 2, 1945.

During the advance into the enemy lines through the Gehaylock forest, Sgt. DuBrook was with a machine gun platoon supporting a rifle company of the 3rd Bn. 328th Inf. A sudden and violent counter-attack compelled the two units to take up new positions. In the excitement, the main supply of ammunition was left behind. S-Sgt. DuBrook and two others boldly worked their way through a gap in the enemy lines, under direct and heavy fire from the enemy; loaded themselves with machine gun belts, and returned to their guns. With the new ammunition, a withering barrage was laid down, which crushed the enemy counter-attack. This enabled our forces to launch a new and successful attack.

Escapes Injury In Two Crashes, All In One Day

MERCER, April 13.—Joseph Young of R. D. 4, Mercer, crashed into the rear of the Langdon Department store after closing time Wednesday night when he lost control of his car while leaving the borough parking ground in Strawberry alley. He is believed to have been unable to apply the brakes and his car shot over an embankment and struck the steel grating of the window at the rear of the drygoods department of the store, knocking it out and carrying with it a section of the brick wall. A wrecker was required to remove the car from the store. Temporary repairs are being made to the building.

Sometime earlier in the afternoon Mr. Young was involved in an accident at the intersection of Greenville avenue and route 19, in Mercer, when his car collided with a truck loaded with lumber, belonging to the Greenville Lumber company and driven by Harry Moyer of Hadley.

Young escaped injury in both accidents.

YANK BROADCAST RILES 'SUPERMAN'

(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE — (INS) — An American Psychological Warfare Branch broadcast cut across the relative Sabbath calm on an infantry division sector and shattered the tranquility in the breast of an excitable Nazi.

From an OP overlooking enemy lines, GIs saw the angry Kraut rise out of his foxhole and shake his fist in the direction of the Yankee disturbance.

Then, as the American watched, two German crews set up machine guns on hills commanding their own lines, ready to mow down any superman who might heed the lure of the broadcast and try to surrender.

Sanitary Kitchens Are Safer! In kitchen cleansing it's important to make germ "danger zones" sanitary. The simple, efficient way is to use Clorox in routine cleansing of refrigerators and other food containers, sinks, drainboards, china and glassware, dishcloths and mops, dish towels, floors, garbage containers.

Make Bathroom "Danger Zones" Clorox Clean! In bathrooms ordinary cleansing is not enough, for bathroom surfaces may look clean yet be covered with invisible germ dangers. Here again Clorox provides greater sanitation in the cleansing of tile, enamel, porcelain, linoleum and wood surfaces.

HOME SANITATION GUIDE

Use Clorox to remove stains, deodorize and disinfect in routine cleansing of "danger zones" such as:

Basins	Linoleum
Bathtubs	Marble
Coffee, Tea Pots	Porcelain
Dishes	Refrigerators
Dishcloths	Showers
Drainboards	Sink Room Utensils
Drainpipes	Sinks, Tile
Enamel Ware	Thermos Bottles
Food Bins	Toilet Bowls
Fruit Jars	Windows
Garbage Containers	Wood Utensils
Glassware	Woodwork

Simply follow directions on the label.

Make White Linens Beautifully White, Sanitary! Clorox gently bleaches white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors), removes stains, scorch, mildew. It also deodorizes and disinfects. And Clorox reduces rubbing . . . thus prolonging life of fabrics.

Lawrence County Farm And Home News

By Extension Representatives, LEWIS C. DAYTON, Agriculture;
MISS LAURA PHILLIPPI, Home EconomicsYOUNG DAIRY HEIFERS DO BETTER IN STABLE

Young dairy heifers do not thrive satisfactorily on pasture alone and should be kept in the barn where it is cool.

The digestive system of calves from 6 to 12 months of age is not fully developed. They cannot handle a sufficient quantity of bulk in the form of grass to furnish necessary nutrients for growth and body development. Instead, they should be kept in the barn and supplied with plenty of hay and water, along with adequate grain to insure proper growth.

Calves 10 to 12 months of age may be put on pasture near the barn where they can be fed grain once a day. But, they will require shade and ample water. If pastures become short in mid-summer, additional hay and grain may be necessary to keep up satisfactory body gains.

When heifers are turned on pasture, they should be fed some dry hay. This will tend to slow up the digestive processes with the grasses, permitting the full utilization of their food value. A good-quality, moist mixed hay is best for heifers, and if fed from a rack there will be a minimum of waste.

Heifers at 13 months are old enough to breed, and with early freshening the cost of maintaining a heifer until she is in production is lessened. The importance of keeping the heifers growing properly lies in the fact that all other conditions being equal, large cows produce more milk and produce it more economically than small cows.

EROSION CONTROLLED
BY SIMPLE METHOD

Lawrence county farmers don't like to see their rich top soil wash away. They object still more to having gullies in their fields. These are some of the reasons that many Lawrence county farmers have adopted simple but effective measures to control erosion.

Some of the methods being used are to plant trees on steep hillsides, improve pasture sods by treatment with lime and fertilizer, grow long lasting hay crop plant sloping fields in contour strips, leave sod waterways in low places in fields. These measures not only control erosion but also result in increased yields.

GENTLE WASHING BEST FOR
WOOL BLANKETS

Keep your wool blankets soft and fluffy by careful washing. Because wool is sensitive to heat and cold, it's necessary to observe temperatures throughout the entire laundering process.

Woolens shrink and harden in hot or cold water so use lukewarm water. Also too fast drying near artificial heat or freezing will shrink woolens. Shrinking and felting will be speeded up by rubbing, by strong soap, or by rubbing soap directly on the fabric.

The following method for washing wool blankets or other household furnishings containing wool are containing wool are suggested: In water that feels neither hot nor cold to the hand, completely dissolve mild soap in flake, bead, or jelly form until there's a lather that stands about 4 inches high. Or soap may be dissolved in hot water and the suds cooled to the right temperature or lukewarm. Use plenty of water because more is needed for woolens than for other materials.

Put the blanket in the suds. If using the washing machine, don't crowd and don't run the washer longer than 4 or 5 minutes. Hand washing is less likely to shrink and harden woolens. Do not rub but gently squeeze and work in the suds.

Set the wringer loosely and put the blanket through it or squeeze the water out by hand. If necessary wash through a second suds. Rinse free of soap in several changes of lukewarm water.

Dry woolens in a warm place but not near heat or in the direct sunlight. The evaporation of water should take place slowly and evenly.

A gentle breeze hastens the drying so plan to wash woolens on a clear dry when there's a breeze. After a blanket is dry, brush lightly to lift the nap. Woolens not to be used soon should be protected from moths.

News Of Death Of President Shock To City

The change came very quickly Thursday evening, from the atmosphere of casual week-day bustle to that of a city shocked and sorrowful. Many of the late shoppers and the store clerks were still downtown when the news of the death of Franklin Roosevelt began to filter through the town.

Some heard it in stores and wouldn't believe it; some heard it on the street, or on buses; some heard it over the radio at dinner-time and left their suppers untouched.

From six o'clock on almost every home sat hearing and rehearsing the details of the President's last day, and discussions of the new president.

Street corner discussion groups were more in evidence than at any time since before the last election, only there were no violent arguments as there were then. Everyone was quietly talking or shaking his head in bewilderment.

The big topics, as far as being frequently overheard were: the effect the President's death will have on the Allies, the loss of his personal leadership, and questions about what sort of person the new president would prove to be.

Harrassed telephone operators put in a few bad hours also, as the calls began to come in faster and faster. Newspaper men also had a few hectic hours during the evening. "What I can't understand," commented a bus driver late Thursday evening, "is how he lived as long as he did; his job was worse than mine."

And a girl eating at a lunch counter this morning said simply, "There's sort of an empty feeling around today."

Cancer Cause Of 14,000 Deaths In State Last Year

Campaign Under Way To Raise Funds To Combat Disease
In This Locality

If today's News carried a story that 14,000 people had been killed in Pennsylvania in 1944 by automobiles, firecrackers or football, there would be an immediate outcry for legislation restricting such activities. Organizations would pass resolutions demanding protective laws, and money would be poured out to educate people of the dangers of the things mentioned.

There were 14,000 killed in Pennsylvania in 1944 by one killer, cancer. Yet there is no public outcry of any size against it; few people concern themselves about this insidious danger to Americans, but physicians know the danger of it. Something definite in the way of concerted action has been needed for years in Pennsylvania and the other states, and that something is being started now. April is cancer control month over the nation and here in New Castle a campaign for funds will be under way on April 15 through the balance of the month.

The drive has its headquarters in the offices of the Greater New Castle association, with Dr. Paul H. Wilson as the chairman and Mrs.

John H. McIlwraith as city captain.

The money raised will be for research and education against cancer. Through more intensive research and the education of people against the early signs of cancer it is hoped to check the toll of deaths. But it can only be done through an aroused people, willing to spend money and time to turn back a killer that makes the traffic accident toll look like a minor accident.

Hyde Park Folks Bowed In Grief

Villagers Who Knew Franklin D. Roosevelt As Neighbor, Feel Keenly Personal Loss

CITIZENS SHOCKED BEYOND DESCRIPTION

By RICHARD SHANER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 13.—Like the rest of the nation Hyde Park bowed its head in grief today over the loss of its No. 1 citizen, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Here, in this little village nestling along the Hudson river, some were sick with sorrow, others cried and whispered a hurried prayer, still others felt the death of the President was like the loss of one of their own.

Known to All
Most of the 3000 villagers had known the President and his family for years. He had traveled among them as much as he could after his ascendency to the presidency back in the grim days of 1932. Many he called by first name.

They were shocked beyond all words of description when the radio blared the news that the nation's war-time commander-in-chief had died suddenly at Warm Springs, Ga. Their hurt was deep and sincere, more like the loss of their closest friend rather than just one of the many wealthy persons who live on spacious estates in this upstate New York village.

It was too sudden, it was unbelievable, they felt. The news reached the townspeople through the radio. It spread rapidly by word of mouth, too, over back fences, in stores and in little groups on streets and corners.

Hyde Park Subdued
Excited groups talked about it in subdued tones, and in Hyde Park's lone restaurant and bar, the customer listened to the flashed announcement, quietly finished their drink or let it stand and went home. Within fifteen to thirty minutes, the place was empty, very similar to the feeling of sadness that the people carried with them.

The Roosevelt estate is about two miles from town. A spacious 2000-acre spread, and to this restful retreat the President came as frequently as possible when the heavy duties of the nation could be laid aside momentarily. He was a familiar figure to the Hyde Parkers early in his administration. But after the war started, his burdens limited his recreation and the number of visits he could make to his home. On the estate is the famous library which houses the Roosevelt collection of letters and papers, and other historical keepsakes.

Westminster Students Honor Late President

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 13.—With the flag on the tower of Old Main flying at half-mast, and all social functions cancelled for the week end, students of Westminster college are honoring President Franklin Roosevelt with special prayer and commemoration services.

The college chapel was crowded for the prayer service conducted by college president, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath on Thursday evening, and the Student Council program this morning was dedicated to the work of the late president. Miss Hilda McDowell summarized his accomplishments during twelve years in office, after which Miss James Shepherd sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Miss Wanda Shoup recited Tennyson's elegiac poem "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington."

Commemoration services will be held also at the Sunday evening chapel service, under Dr. Galbreath.

Alton, England, may requisition unused housing buildings to relieve its housing shortage.

Most Stores In Pittsburgh Open

PITTSBURGH, April 13.—(INS)—Pittsburgh banks and most stores were open today but some officials said they probably would close tomorrow because of President Roosevelt's death. The stock exchange also was open.

Bankers explained only Gov. Edward Martin can close the banks. They said if the banks closed on their own initiative they would be legally liable for uncompleted transactions.

Pittsburgh's Mayor Cornelius D. Scully ordered flags on all city buildings be displayed at half mast for 30 days and also asked that amusement places be closed today.

Cafes-Movies Shut For Three Days

Schools Open Today, City-County Officers Close Saturday Out Of Respect

Flags are at half mast today in New Castle, many places of business are closed and the city joins in the national sorrow over the death of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. At noon today the following steps had been taken to mark a period of mourning.

All motion picture houses are closed today and will be closed Saturday and Sunday.
No liquor or beer will be sold in cafes or restaurants today, Saturday and Sunday. This includes clubs, cafes and restaurants but does not include the sale of food. Restaurants and hotels will keep open their dining rooms but no liquor or beer will be sold.

Retail stores of the city will not close but will observe a five minute period of silence Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, the time of the funeral.

Public Schools Open
Public schools did not close today. "We believe the President would have wanted the war industries and the war itself to be carried on without cessation," said Superintendent Frank L. Burton. "We believe it would accomplish nothing in the way of honoring the memory of President Roosevelt to turn the children loose this afternoon," said he. The picture houses are closed and the youngsters would be on the streets. It is our opinion the schools should continue all day.

The Lawrence County court adjourned today in memory of President Roosevelt and will be closed until Monday morning.

The county commissioners' offices are closed this afternoon and will be closed until Monday. The Treasurer's office, the Prothonary's office, the Register and Recorder's office and the county controller's office will be open this afternoon. All courthouse offices will remain closed Saturday, save for the work of the election board which is required by law to meet at noon and draw places for ballot positions of candidates in the primary election June 19.

Issues Warning To Auto Drivers

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today concerned himself with traffic. He issued several warnings to the motor vehicle public, as follows:

"Autos and trucks with 1944 plates must be removed from public streets. They cannot use the public highway as a garage."

"Operators who drive cars with only one headlight may expect to be stopped and sent to a garage to have the headlight repaired."

"Parking a car against the current of traffic, especially at night, is as evil a menace as the One-eyed driver. They too, may draw a ticket from an officer," he said.

The chief reported that several drivers were taken into custody in the city by city police for driving cars without an operator's license and without 1945 plates. They will be given into custody of State police for prosecution.

Nazi Guerrillas, 15 Years Of Age, Taken By Yanks

First Of Hitler's 'Werewolves' Are Captured; Both Are Badly
Scared Say Reports

By LEE CARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH ADVANCING FIRST
ARMY TROOPS IN GERMANY.

April 13.—The first of Nazi Germany's "Werewolves"—members of the guerrilla bands ordered by Adolf

Hitler to fight to the bitter end—

were captured by American troops

today.

There were two of them.

Both were fifteen years of age.

They were armed with pistols and knives and wore the dark blue uniform of the Volksturm.

And they were so scared their speech was almost inaudible.

These initial prize packages from the organization which the Nazis are trying so hard to whip up into a scorching weapon of terrorism called themselves "Junior Kom-mandos."

They said they were part of a group commanded by a regular

German army lieutenant who had sent them back through the American lines with instructions as follow:

"Hinder and hit at the most sensitive spots of the American forces

until such a time as Der Fuehrer

is ready to strike back."

The teen-aged desperadoes of Germany's underground said they had been ordered to meet other kindergarten killers, organize them,

distribute leaflets and then "advance to meet our obedient leader and receive orders for the next mission."

One of the two—tall and blond—was so frightened he never did get his voice above a whisper. The other, a small, very dark and fiercely 15-year-old, finally got around to speaking defiance in an adolescent high-low voice. What he said was this:

"Give me a bullet, Germany is lost. There will be no life here."

VATICAN CITY, April 13.—(INS)—
Pope Pius XII today expressed his grief in the death of President Roosevelt and the hope that President Truman will be instrumental lasting peace.

In a message of condolence to the American people, expressed in a cable to Truman, the Pope said:

"The unexpected and sorrowful word of the President's passing brings to our hearts a profound sense of grief, born of the esteem in which we held this renowned statesman and of the friendly relations fostered and maintained with us and the Holy See.

"In the true expression of our condolence, we join our prayers for the entire American people and the new president, to whom we extend our fervent good wishes that his labors may be efficacious in leading his nation, now at war, to an early peace that will be just and

Paper Mills Use Reclaimed Felts To Make Blankets

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—A quarter of a million woolen blankets have come out of the paper mills of the United States and have gone overseas for war relief and into hospitals of this country to help relieve distress and pain.

Wool from paper mills? It does sound a little strange. You can make a lot of things out of our great natural self-replenishing resource, wool, and paper is one outstanding product. But you can't make wool. Where the woolen blankets figure in a paper mill is in the production of paper itself.

Wool Absorbs Water
 Large quantities of pure wool are necessary for this purpose. Paper in an early stage of production is a thin ribbon of soft, watery cellophane pulp, unable to hold itself together. So it rides a woolen felt into the paper machine. The felt not only holds up the paper pulp but helps absorb the moisture. When some of the water has been drawn from the pulp, it begins to be paper and the felt rolls back to the starting point to do the job over again.

But the felts made from the finest blendings of domestic and imported wools, have a short life in the paper machines, sometimes six weeks, at most two months, by which time they lose their absorbent qualities and have to be replaced. Formerly these felts, 100 per cent wool, were disposed of at salvage values. Since the war began, the felts have been returned to woolen mills to be cleaned, reknapped and cut into warm blankets for use by relief organizations.

240,000 Blankets
 Chief recipients of these blankets have been the American Red Cross, the Canadian (Maple Leaf) Division of the British War Relief Society and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Up to October, 1944, more than 240,000 blankets went abroad—4,974 to Greece, 54,919 to Russia, 3,223 to Canada, 3,779 for disposition by the Red Cross, and the balance to England, where they have been distributed to bombed families.

The blanket program was originally sponsored by the National Paperboard Association, but now approximately 125 paper mills throughout the country donate their felts to the cause. It has been estimated that the blankets are worth between $5 and $6, representing a total value of one and one quarter million dollars.

D. Roosevelt and pray for the comfort of his sorrowing family. Let us also pray for God's gracious guidance as the portion of President Harry S. Truman, the nation, and our allies, in this time of world trouble.

HOW TO DISPLAY FLAG IN MOURNING

Many folks who do not have flag poles, have been wondering today how they may display the flag to indicate mourning. Where one has a flag pole the flag is raised to the top of the pole and then lowered half-way down the pole, or at half-mast. In other cases where the flag is displayed on a staff, mourning is indicated by attaching two small streamers of black from the spearhead of the staff and allowing them to drape naturally into place when the flag is displayed.

WAR SPURRING BOOK DEMAND

CHICAGO — (INS)—The books Americans are reading now are playing a larger and more decisive part in our national life than ever before. John T. Frederick, Northwestern University professor, told his listeners at a meeting of the conference on reading at the University of Chicago.

This is indicated both by the number of books we are reading and by the character of these books. Prof. Frederick said.

During 1943 Americans bought more than 250,000,000 books, exclusive of textbooks, a far larger number than in any previous year in our history.

Reading Guides Thinking
 "The nature of many of these books is such as to make inescapable the conclusion that reading is making a most important and perhaps a decisive contribution to our thinking and conduct as a people in these crucial times."

Frederick, Professor of Modern Letters in the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern, said war books which "constitute factual first hand records, such as 'Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo' by Captain Ted Lawson, 'The Battle of the Pacific' by Captain Ralph Ingersoll, and 'Condition Red' by Captain Frederick J. Bell, make highly significant contributions to our thought and knowledge beyond their immediate sharing of experience at the battle front."

Increase Understanding
 The educator pointed out that these books have their highest value in their distinct contribution to the greater understanding and appreciation of our Allies, the explanation of the complex organization and operation of a modern army which brings meaning to the newspaper headlines, and reinforced and complemented by a keen biography have been widely read in the past decade and the interest is growing steadily.

The interest in books on the war is equalled by an emphasis on Descriptive and historical books which have as their common denominator the expression of positive faith—in man and in God—were the fourth area of special interest in the current relation between books, men and events discussed by Prof. Frederick.

Colonel Eagan Asks Systemized Fight Judging

New Commissioner Of Boxing In New York State Hopes To Improve Game

JUDGING OF FIGHT SHOWS REAL ART

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 13.—While the admitted clowns of the circus perform these nights in Madison Square Garden, forcing our pugilistic harlequins into the smaller bush league clubs, Col. Eddie Eagan continues his experiments into the higher mathematics of properly scoring a prizefight. The aforementioned Col. Eagan, who is chairman of the State Athletic Commission, probably would be the first to admit by this time that the thing is so tangled up that one of these nights the officials are going to come up with cards showing the referee as the winner.

Col. Eagan has been busy on this problem of trying to get the right winner of a given match ever since he took office as successor to double-talking Gen. John J. Phelan. The only notable change seems to be that the double-talking now is done in writing when the referee and two judges add up their points and rounds at the end of the bout.

Call One Right Like the other night when a character named John Thomas beat the Billy B. out of Billy Grant and the two judges voted accordingly and with popular approval at Little St. Nick's arena.

But this was too good to stand up for long. Col. Eagan and the flustering Gen. Phelan, now merely a commissioner instead of chairman, had just heaved a great sigh of relief over this striking unanimity when the referee's card was read.

This citizen reached the height of making figures do the double talk.

His card showed 13 points for Grant and 12 for Thomas, with the rounds split exactly even at four apiece. So he gave his vote to Thomas.

That made the decision unanimous for Thomas among the three officials, but the referee's way of reaching his conclusion also has made Col. Eagan ponder at great length over this scoring and mathematical innovation. This was something he hadn't even run across at Denver U. Yale, Harvard or Oxford in the days when he was pursuing a boxing career of his own at the educational foundations.

Has New System Gen. Phelan too was stumped. The old double-talker himself couldn't make heads or tails of the perplexing problem and for once did not attempt to come up with an unintelligible answer to what the referee was trying to prove by figuring in double talk. That Einstein is a dope, maybe.

What Col. Eagan has been trying to get his officials to practice for formal adoption on April 16 is a new system that is based on round-by-round scoring, unless that ends in a draw. In that case points which have been kept on each round should be totaled and the fighter with the most points is the winner.

Everything worked all right for Referee Jack Appell the other evening except finding himself with a draw based on rounds, he gave his vote to the fighter with the least number of points on his card. The referee heightened the confusion by explaining that he voted for Thomas because he was more aggressive and stronger at the finish. But apparently he neglected to give him any points for this.

Well, we can always go to the circus.

Church Golfers Plan Fine Loop

Will Start Play At Castle Hills Golf Course Thursday Night, May 3

New Castle church golfers some 75 or 80 strong will converge on the beautiful Castle Hills golf course on Thursday night May 3 for the start of another golfing season, it was announced at a meeting of the captains held last night.

There will be ten teams in the league this year—two more than last year—the new teams are Second U. P. and St. Paul's Lutheran. The golfers will find the Castle Hills course greatly improved and are looking forward to a most successful league season.

Castle Hills is now in shape for play and the league members will no doubt get out and "swing a few" before the start of the loop next month.

HOW ABOUT A SPRINGER?

This isn't written by an expert on springer spaniels. I know little of the finer points of the breed as related to bench shows and blue ribbons. However, I've owned a couple of the little rascals and thus became pretty well acquainted with the individual characteristics of that particular duo. It's entirely possible that someone else may have a springer with traits that vary widely from those of the pair I reared, but as I've often stated, individuals in dogdom differ almost as much as do humans.

The average springer is an intelligent fellow. He's only a notch, and an imperceptible notch at that, below the cocker in that respect, and the cocker's rightly rated as one of the most knowing canines extant. But sometimes the springer can be stubborn, particularly during the process of training, and as a pup he's inclined to be unruly and wild. One of those I reared could compete with a young Irish setter in this latter respect.

Grows To Discipline Like a setter pup, though he outgrew his alleged discipline with a puppyhood, and my patience with him and steady insistence that he do what I wanted him to, brought results. As to the stubbornness, I'm confident it was that and not lack of intelligence, because when he felt like learning something he had no trouble scoring close to 100 in his lessons, given time.

The springer's usually indifferent to gunfire and thus isn't likely to be anxious, though of course individuals may become so. Almost always, too, he's an avid hunter and doesn't have to be trained to search out game as dogs of other breeds sometimes do.

Never To Perfection

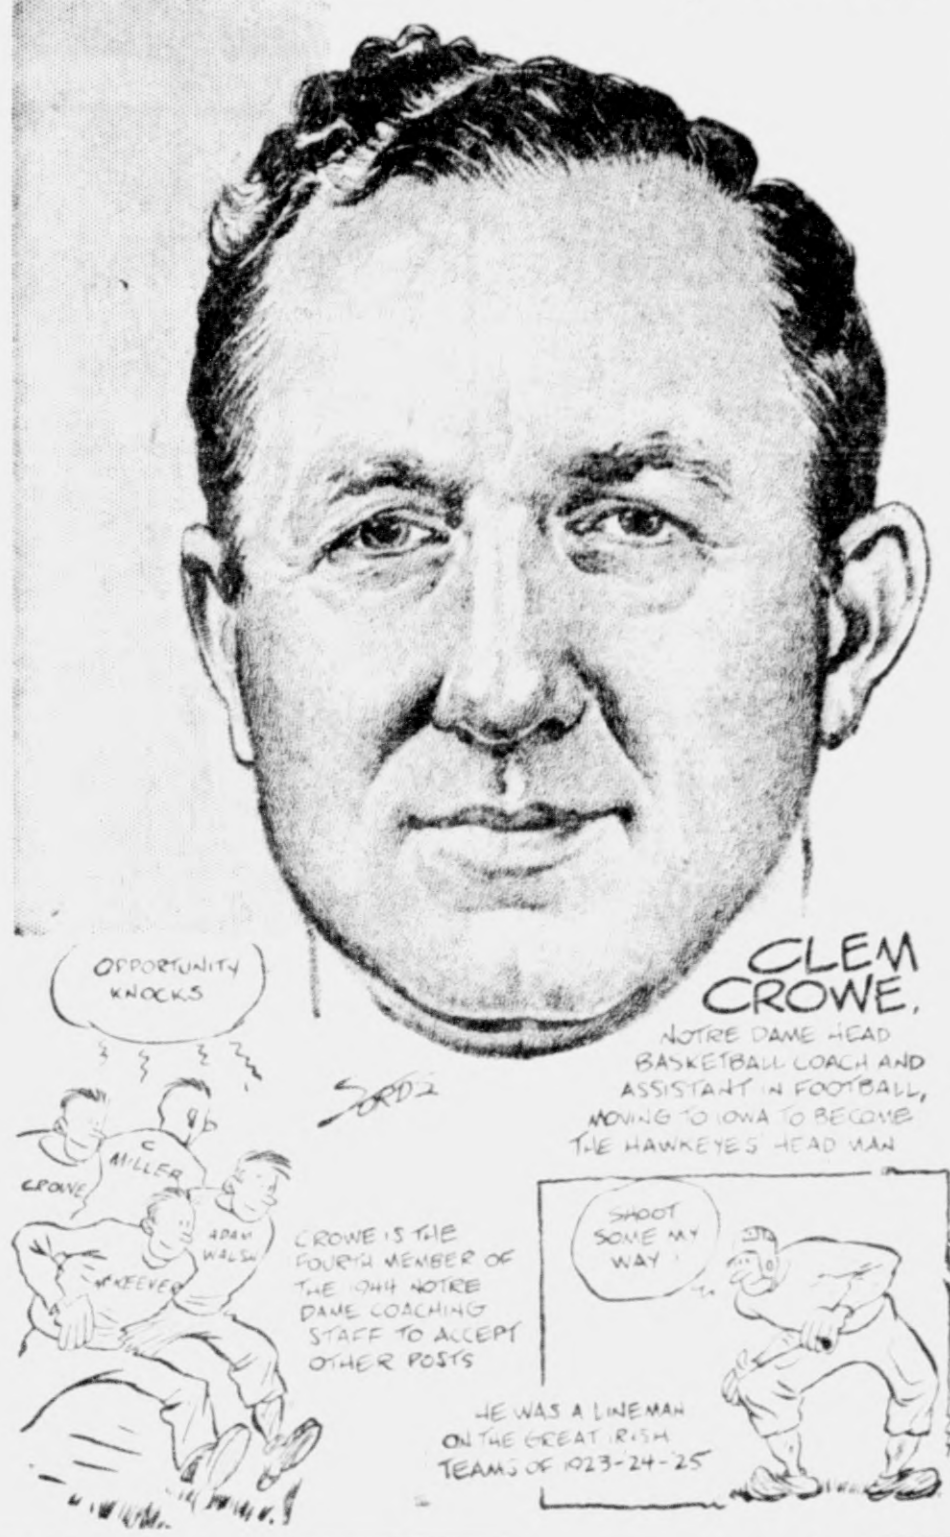

My greatest difficulty in training each of the springers I owned was in persuading them to remain in my vicinity so they wouldn't flush pleasures out of range. In fact, I never did get this phase of their training down to perfection, but that it can be done was demonstrated to me one October day by a lone hunter and his dog. That springer ranged within a scant 40 yards of his master, sweeping in continuous half circles, and investigated every patch of potential ringneck cover.

The springer's a companionable house dog and you can make a pet of him without spoiling him for the field. His long hair mitigates against him, both while hunting when he's certain to pick up a lot of burs, and at home, where he'll bring in more mud and debris than a short-haired dog. A little extra grooming will take care of this difficulty. The springer fits well in a car and isn't too big for a boat. Most springers love water and delight in retrieving waterfowl.

NEW HAWKEYE - By Jack Sords

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, April 13.—A behind-the-scenes fight between house and senate Republican leaders was touched off when the upper chamber's elections committee failed to report for their consideration a measure authorizing political party chairmen to sign affidavits for candidates serving in the armed forces.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. William J. Stomer (R) Lackawanna, was designed to protect the candidacy of Lt. Col. T. Linn Hoban, former Lackawanna county judge now in a German prison camp. The bill was sent to the senate March 29 and was expected to be placed on Gov. Edward Martin's desk last week because today is the last day to file nominating petitions. Because the senate committee failed to act, certain house members, were reported to have threatened to regard certain favorite bills of the senators.

Members of important committees can always look forward to being wined and dined by lobbyists seeking a favorable action on pet bills. A house committee considering a measure calling for the expenditure of millions of dollars by the state and municipalities was royally entertained by proponents of the bill. As one committee member explained it, there was "all the duck you wanted and they even set up a private bar" in the hotel. Copies of the bill, the principle points of which were fully pointed out beside each member's plate as they sat down to dinner. The measure was George Barrett, w. k. mailman and fisherman expert, in a discussion with Here & There, today said: "Fish in a stream take on the characteristics of the water. In other words it is explained it this way. Slippery Rock creek water is colder than that in the Neshaunock creek. Neshaunock creek water is colder than that in French creek. Therefore, he explained, you'll get more of a fight from a bass in the Slippery Rock than you do in the Neshaunock and more of a battle from a Neshaunock creek bass than one caught in French creek. He said the bass stream of this district is the real bass stream. It was the origin of a fisherman, now an octogenarian who fished the creek 25 years ago. He believes the trout were cannibalistic than the bass. A year or two ago he caught one of the biggest muskies yet taken out of French creek.

Four month period that will have elapsed by April 28 since James F. Byrnes, former director of war mobilization, put the kibosh on racing has created many problems. Owners, breeders, trainers and track operators have had no end of perplexities but with the lifting of the ban promised when official Washington is satisfied that Germany is shipped, the racing secretaries are up to their chins preparing for a resumption of the sport. Years ago there was harness racing at the local fair grounds. However, it passed out of existence for a good track remains here. Joe Rick, the city's foremost horseman, has a stable there. They use the local track for training. A meet wouldn't go bad this summer if it could be arranged.

A carousal is no way to celebrate V-E and others who favor a big celebration should remember our boys in the Pacific. The war won't be over until Japan is beaten. Give thanks to Our Creator when V-E arrives then resume turning out rods to conquer Japan. V-E will mean in many cases that boys who have gone through hell in Europe will receive a brief furlough here then go into the Pacific according to report. End of hostilities in Europe will be akin to a football game—the end of the first half.

Educator Advocates U. S. Assume Leadership In Culture And Technology

CHICAGO, April 13.—(INS)—Dr. John A. Wilson, of the University of Chicago, advocated that America assume leadership in culture, technology and other fields as desired by many nations of the world.

In that way, he said, it will create the opportunity for genuine progress toward the achievement of democracy in the postwar world.

Dr. Wilson said that this should be the work not of the government, but of the nation's great universities, and he added:

"Already the United States has received an embarrassing number of requests to assist struggling nations in technological, scientific, and intellectual advances. These appeals we find difficult to reject."

Dr. Wilson is director of the university's Oriental Institute and affiliated with the State Department's Division of Cultural Relations.

In referring to the cultural yearnings of nations such as China, Afghanistan, Iran, Turkey, Abyssinia, Mexico, and Colombia, he said:

"It is a moving experience to see them trying to lift themselves into the modern world after centuries of following age old traditions and methods. Now, they no longer are willing to follow a way of life which makes them dependent. They wish to be strong in their own right."

Nations Need Help

Describing these nations as "astir with ambition and a patriotic nationalism that accepts a highly centralized government as the most efficient instrument toward modernization and industrialization," he added:

"They must have help because they are in a frantic hurry to catapult themselves into modernity and few of them can make that leap with their own intellectual resources alone."

Dr. Wilson then stressed that these countries were "aware of the danger of seeking help from many of the western powers."

"They know," he said, "that technical advisors are often the first agents of imperialism. That is why

Wheat is cultivated to some extent in every civilized country in the world, but few countries raise more than enough to feed their own people. The United States, Russia, Argentina, Australia, Canada, and India always have wheat for sale, while the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Germany, Scandinavia, Belgium, Italy, France and Brazil are forced to import a considerable part of the wheat or wheat flour they use.

PRESIDENT'S FUNERAL TRAIN NOW ENROUTE

ly to a cousin, Miss Laura Delano, of a splitting headache, and placed his right hand to the back of his head. Then his eyes closed as he lapsed into unconsciousness.

His last words were: "I have a terrific headache."

Commander Howard Bruenn of the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., who accompanied the president to Warm Springs, in the absence of Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, his personal physician, and Dr. James E. Paulin of Atlanta, specialist, diagnosed death as due to a "massive cerebral hemorrhage."

At President's Side
The two physicians, together with Lieut. Commander George Fox, also of the naval medical staff, were at the president's side when he breathed his last.

He did not recover consciousness after he was stricken at his desk.

Funeral services will be held in the east room of the White House at 4 p. m. Saturday. The body will arrive at union station, Washington, at 10 a. m. Saturday, after leaving Warm Springs at 10 a. m. (CWT) this morning.

Burial At Hyde Park
After the funeral services at the White House the president's body will leave Washington at 10 p. m. Saturday for his Hyde Park, N. Y., home where he will be buried in the flower garden of his boyhood across overlooking the Hudson river and Hudson Highlands.

The funeral train will arrive at the Hyde Park estate on the east bank of the Hudson at 9 a. m. Sunday. Burial will take place at 10 a. m., with the Rev. Dr. Anthony of the Hyde Park church in which the president was senior warden, reading the burial services will be marked by simplicity and lack of ostentation that characterized the president's life.

In Special Car
The president's body will be borne to Washington in the special car in which he had journeyed thousands of miles over this country, into Canada and into Mexico, during the war years and those preceding them.

The president loved to travel. He had probably spent more time in his special train during the past three crucial years, traveling back and forth to ports from which to fly or go by warship to the conferences at Casablanca, Cairo, Tehran, Pearl Harbor and Yalta, and back and forth to Hyde Park, then the White House itself.

The train was such that the Third Gen. George S. Patton to within 40 miles of Leipzig and 55 miles from Chemnitz.

Gen. Patton's forces moved steadily east after crossing the Saale river south of Naumburg. The Saale was crossed at numerous points along a 40-mile front.

The German DVE agency reported, however, that stiff battles had broken out 15 miles west of Leipzig on the approaches of Weissenfels and Merseburg.

Progress at the southern end of the western front was marked by the clearing of the last Nazi resistance inside Schweinfurt and the capture of Heilbronn after nine days of fighting, by the U. S. Seventh Army.

In the northwestern battle area troops of the Canadian First Army made a second crossing of the Issel river in the Arnhem area of the Netherlands in the final drive to liberate the six Dutch cities of Amsterdam, Rotterdam and the Hague.

The original Canadian bridgehead between Deventer and Zutphen was enlarged to six miles in depth and four miles in width.

SOVIETS GROWING CROPS IN ARCTIC
Plants Are Warmed By Electricity. Extensive Fields Of Vegetables Reported

By PERCY JORDON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Apr. 13.—Soviet farmers today are producing tobacco plants, tropical palms, flowers and thousands of tons of vegetables in a far distant corner of Siberia well within the Arctic circle.

Although the 63rd parallel was once considered the northern limit for farming, Soviet farmers are having these amazing results in the 70th parallel and are growing their crops on permanently frozen soil which is electrically warmed.

Cabbage, Potatoes Flourish
Farming in the Arctic has become a practical possibility here there are extensive fields of cabbage and potatoes flourishing on land which formerly was swampy tundra; the day and night sunshine of the Arctic summer glints on greenhouses and cucumber frames.

Vegetables, dill and tobacco plants are grown in the open on a thin layer of soil resting on permanently frozen subsoil.

Each cabbage plant is grown separately and then planted in the ground in a plot filled with peat and manure.

Later the plants are watered with a solution of manure and mineral salts and they grow to a weight of 14 to 18 pounds.

Electricity Warms Soil
The more tender plants are grown in electrically warmed soil. The sun thaws the top layer of soil to a depth varying from 20 inches to 40 inches, but the temperature of this layer remains very low, so a high voltage electric current applied by electrodes placed in the ground warms the soil round the roots to about 23 degrees centigrade.

Tropical palms, cucumbers, tomatoes and garden flowers are grown in greenhouses covering 10,000 square yards.

A Russian scientist, who was the first to demonstrate that food crops can be grown beyond the Arctic Circle, last year scored one of her greatest triumphs by growing barley in a latitude of 65 degrees north.

The word grenade was taken from the French word for pomegranate, because of a resemblance in shape to the fruit.

After his election to a fourth term last November he waited weeks before taking a rest. Then he came down to Warm Springs for three weeks of wet and freezing weather. A day after his fourth term inauguration he slipped quietly away from Washington for his second war meeting with Soviet Marshal Josef Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill at Yalta in the Crimea.

Tired And Driven
With two other correspondents this reporter accompanied the President back from the Mediterranean after the Yalta meeting. He appeared tired and drawn the first two or three days. But long hours of rest and sunshine on the voyage back across the Atlantic erased some of the lines of fatigue and care.

Yesterday afternoon the President was to have attended an old-time Georgia barbecue, replete with barbecued sucking pigs and Brunswick stew at the mountain-top cottage of Mayor Allcorn of Warm Springs.

This correspondent and others were gathered at the cottage when the President's arrival. When the time passed, a phone call was made to the White House switchboard to see what was delaying the Executive.

It was then that the operator summoned the reporters to the cottage on the foundation in which the Secretary Hasset had his temporary offices.

The story was apparent the moment the correspondent walked into the cottage. Several grief-stricken members of the staff were weeping silently, trying to hide their anguish.

Hasset said: "It is my sad duty to announce that the President died at 3:35 p. m. Central war time of a cerebral hemorrhage."

The correspondents rushed to telephones to call their Washington offices to flash the news to the world.

Cites Fundamentals Of Successful Investing

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1945—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 13.—"Mr. Babson, I have sold my business, where can I invest the proceeds?" "My wife and I are getting along in years, in what can we invest our money so that we will be assured of a moderate income for the rest of our lives?" "I have just inherited $5,000, how can I double this money quickly?"

These are typical of the many asked me from week-to-week. Behind each lies the instinctive desire of all human beings for self-protection.

Know Yourself

Before entering upon an important venture—and certainly before buying any stock—it is imperative that you know yourself. Self-control, patience and courage are essential to success. Have you the self-control to follow a strict investment policy? Do rumors and minor fluctuations fail to sway you? Have you the patience to hold your funds liquid until a real bargain comes your way? Do you resist jumping into a bull market in the hope of scalping a few points profit on the advance? Have you the courage to buy when the news is pessimistic and everyone about you is selling? Will you sell when stocks are on the upgrade and everybody is talking about the new highs to be reached?

If you can answer "yes" to each of these questions and if you have some extra money to invest, you have the attributes for becoming successful. Then you can determine your own particular needs and select a diversified group of securities which will meet these requirements. After you have purchased your securities, do not be concerned over day-to-day fluctuations. Avoid jumping from one stock to another in the hope of picking a few points here and there. Do not follow the crowd. Always bear in mind that in finance the herd instinct is fatal.

Selecting Your Company

Before buying any stock you should decide what you expect of it. In the case of the man who has sold his business, the chances are that he will want to own stocks that will appreciate in value. Therefore, he will do well to buy into a young industry—possibly television, plastics or electronics. To the elderly couple who want income, I suggest "series G" government bonds and the securities of well-established companies with a good dividend record and a promising future. To the young person who has inherited the $5,000, I say: "The stock market is no royal road to easy money. A horse race would be just as good a bet and might prove more exciting."

The investor should carefully study the trend of the market and the outlook for the industry into which he plans to buy. This shows when to buy. He should next analyze the various companies in that industry. He will then select that company which is making the most progress. This company need not necessarily be the largest in its field nor, perhaps, the oldest, but it must be well managed and active. Pay particular attention to the personnel. Remember that the future of every company will depend upon the character of the individuals who control and manage it.

"Tips" You May Accept

Approach the stock market in an intelligent manner. Follow the lead of successful institutions and buy the securities they buy. You can determine this by studying reports of insurance companies. Learn to swim before you venture into deep water and above all be wary of tips from well-meaning friends. Even in the rare instances where such a tip makes good temporarily, it usually leads to loss in the end because it is based on ephemeral rather than fundamental factors. The successful investor must know what to buy or sell, as well as when to buy or sell.

Sgt. Arnold Blews With Noted Division

HEADQUARTERS, 78TH DIVISION, First Army in Germany—Sgt. Arnold Blews, R. D. 4, Gilmore street, was one of the men of the 78th "Lightning Division" of the First Army which made a ranking place for itself in American military history when it reached the Rhine eight days after it reached the R., capturing 46 towns, 1,500 prisoners, and 87 square miles of German land in the meantime, according to a letter of commendation sent out to the men by the commanding officer of the division.

By capturing five bridges over the Ahr river, the outfit assured all territory northwest of the Moselle river. These men captured the Schwammenauel dam, and were the first infantry division soldiers to cross the Rhine.

Serving with a tank destroyer group, Sgt. Blews has been overseas a year and five months, and in service four years. His wife lives at R. D. 4, Gilmore street, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Blews, lives on R. D. 5.
